Neither Can Japan Take Over

RUSSIA MUCH PERTURBED

FISHER INCIDENT SEEMINGLY OF PRIME IMPORTANCE.

St. Petersburg, April 4.—The Russian government is considering the issuance of a statement formally recognizing China's sovereignty in Manchuria in so far as is consistent with the purely administrative rights of Russia in the railroad zone. This is thought to be the best way out of the Harbin difficulty, which has been brought to an issue by the refusal of Fred D. Fisher, the American consul at Harbin, to recognize the Russian administration of this territory. Russian diplomacy is anxious at all hazards to remove the impression that the reorganization of the administration of Harbin and the Chailian involves further encroachment upon the integrity of Manchuria, and there is reason to believe that Russia would be willing to receive suggestions as to the wording of a statement acceptable to the United States and other powers interested, which, while clearly defining the status quo under existing treaties, would permit Russia to institute necessary reforms in the administration of the railroad zone. These efforts are the prerogative of Russia under the treaty of 1896.

Russian Residents Protested.

From conversations with foreign officers, officials and others interested, it would seem that the railroad administration, rather than the foreign office, is responsible for the new regulations which have been promulgated at Harbin without full appreciation of the possibilities of international complications. These regulations found general disfavor at Harbin, and the Russian residents were the first to protest against them.

The press comment of today raises the protest of Consul Fisher to an international incident of the first rank, and several of the prominent newspapers of the capital devote their leading articles to the matter. The Novoye Vremya says it is inconceivable that the American press can be directed against Russian privileges already recognized, and that it must refer to some new pretensions included in the Russian scheme, the details of which are imperfectly known here.

Japan Concerned.

The dissatisfaction expressed even by Russians shows conclusively that the new regulations must fail to satisfy the needs of the local population, inasmuch as American interests are concentrated in the south and not in the north of China, the paper continues. This American protest really concerns Japan rather than Russia. The way of Russia is clear. She must not compromise her position in the Orient, but she must maintain the status quo and avoid any step that would involve a revision of the existing order of things, which are a guarantee of Russia's friendly relations with China and Japan.

The Slovo regrets that the conflict is spreading, and fears that Russia and Japan can assert their interests only at the cost of establishing Germany and the United States in the first place in Chinese sympathies.

CANCER IS CURABLE

E. RUSSELL, Merced, Cal.

"The Cancer on My Face Is Well"

A THING WORTH KNOWING.

No need of cutting off a woman's breast or a man's cheek or nose in a vain attempt to cure cancer. No use of applying burning plasters to the flesh and torturing those already weak from suffering.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

There is no disease that afflicts the human family so malignant or so loathsome and so much to be dreaded as cancer, and unless cured always proves fatal. I have been afflicted for the last three years with a cancer on the side of my nose. I had heard of and wrote to Dr. Byre of Kansas City, describing my case. He answered by saying he could cure it in one month. I ordered the treatment and applied it myself at home under his directions, and in about thirty days the cancer came out and is now nicely healing. I suffered no pain. The remedy was a Combination ointment. I was changed from a nervous and despondent man of 59 years old to a happy and thankful one. No ordinary physician can cure cancer. It requires the services of an extraordinary specialist, and Dr. Byre of Kansas City, Mo., is that specialist whose practice in the treatment of cancer and all malignant diseases has built up for him a wide reputation and an exclusive practice.

I would say to any one afflicted with cancer to give it his immediate attention before it is too late. I would even go so far as to say to the poor man to sell his only cow and send for the treatment, for he had better lose the cow than his life. I write these few lines to encourage and strictly in the interest of the afflicted.

Any letter or letters addressed to me will be carefully examined and answered by enclosing a stamp for return postage and will give the names of one or two business men who know me before and after I was cured. Address me at P. O. No. 3, Box 32, St. Joseph, Mo.

I. How the Discovery Was Made.

In treating nose and throat diseases, Drs. Shores & Shores found that certain medicines, when combined and regularly applied, reduced inflammation and swelling in the nose and throat.

The doctors knew that if they could get this medication into the air tubes of the ears regularly and without violence they could cure deafness.

Day and night they worked on this problem. For several years they tried every method known to medical science, but were baffled at the end of each separate attempt.

They then threw away as useless all the maxims of the schools and all the methods of authority and struck out on the basis of their own experience.

Working along their own lines, they found the true method of carrying medication to the diseased parts of the ear passages.

Under the gentle application of the medicine they saw the imprisoned sense of sound slowly free itself.

They saw the falling of the shackles of deafness.

They saw the unfolding of the principle upon which all future treatment for diseases of the ear was to be founded.

II. The Errors of Ear Doctors.

Years ago when Drs. Shores & Shores first made a specialty of diseases of the ear, doctors relied entirely on operations and forcible dilations of the ear tubes.

Specialists in America and in Europe used knife, catheter and air bags. They cut out bones in the middle ear.

They bored holes in the ear drums. They drove instruments through the middle ear tubes to force or pry them open.

They forced air through to the drums of the ears. They blew medicines against the walls of the throat in the form of liquid "sprays."

Persons only slightly deaf were thus made completely deaf.

Inflammation in the ears was set up, the ear drums were destroyed, abscesses were formed.

Lifelong injury and suffering were inflicted, deafness was intensified.

That was the course then, as it is now, the authorized methods of the schools.

That was why doctors did not cure deafness.

III. What Is the Ear?

The ear to many people is simply the appendage attached like a shell to the side of the head.

But this outer appendage is merely a device to arrest sound waves and protect the ear channel running into the head, into which sound is directed.

The actual ear is a mechanical arrangement inside the head.

Two tubes or air passages unite with this mechanical arrangement.

One is from the outer ear. Into which you can insert the tip of your little finger.

The other is from the upper and back part of the throat and is called the tube of Eustachian, or Eustachian tube.

A curtain of living tissue stretched tightly, and called the ear drums, separates the two air passages.

The mechanism consists of the ear drum, the bones connected therewith, and the nerves that run from the drum to the brain.

If you stick your fingers into your ears or otherwise shut out the free passage of air from the ways to the ear drum, you cannot hear.

If you choke up the inner or Eustachian passages to the ears, you cannot hear.

Why? Because there must be an equal air pressure on each side of the membranous curtain or ear drum to make it vibrate and thus telegraph sound to the brain along the passage of the tube.

The ear drum is like any other drum.

If it has free air pressure on both sides a concussion upon its surface will cause a resonant sound.

Not Mechanics, But Medication.

There are two ways of freeing a gas-pipe choked with frozen earth. One is to run an iron rod through it.

This makes a small channel and allows a diminished quantity of gas to flow through.

The other is to pass the vapor of alcohol into the pipe.

The vapor strikes the frozen earth, softens and melts it, and it falls and then another, until the whole frozen mass crumbles by degrees into a fine powder, and the pipe is free again.

Where medicated vapor is used no harm results.

By its use the obstruction is removed a little at a time until it is all absorbed or carried away.

The diseased surfaces are healed. The drainage is driven out. Perfect hearing follows.

V. The Cause of Deafness.

Deafness, except in those rare cases wherein it is due to accident, is caused by disease affecting the throat.

Pharyngitis, Laryngitis, Rhinitis, Tonsillitis, Bronchitis and all the many diseases affecting the membrane of the throat may result in deafness.

Scarlet Fever, Diphtheria, Typhoid Fever, produce inflammation of the throat, which often extends to the ear tubes, and cause deafness.

Any disease affecting the throat may produce deafness. More than 99 per cent of the cases of deafness are the direct result of diseases affecting the throat.

Deafness is also cured by the introduction of irritating medicines, experimental surgery, consisting of probing, cutting and in some cases by the administration of wrong internal medicines in heavy doses, such as quinine and salicylic acid.

Curing disease in the throat will not relieve Deafness that has resulted from the disease.

It is necessary to use an entirely different treatment, one that will reach the seat of the inflammation in the ear tubes themselves.

Upon this is based the marvel of the restoration of hearing by the discovery.

VI. Noises in the Head.

If you have grasped the subject as far as a word will explain the whole subject of deafness.

Noises in the head are the forerunners of deafness.

Before you noticed that you were getting hard of hearing you were annoyed by head noises.

When the Eustachian tubes begin to block up, air is imprisoned between the closure of the air passage and the ear drum.

The movement of this air, either through the obstruction or the drum causes the noises.

Why are they so loud? Go into a cavern; block up the entrance of the cavern; shout loudly.

The shout deafens you with its force.

The entire cavern echoes and re-echoes.

It comes back to you multiplied and confused in a mass of discordant sounds.

This is what occurs in the Eustachian tubes when disease forms an obstruction in them.

Head noises either indicate a condition of impaired hearing or that the hearing is going to fail.

The disappearance of the whole subject of deafness and its cure.

How is it that a throat doctor discovered the cure for deafness?

What has the throat got to do with the ear?

When you've grasped this secret you will understand the whole subject of deafness and its cure.

Isn't the outer ear channel that figures in deafness.

Isn't the inner ear the channel from the throat to the ear drum—the Eustachian canal.

That's the secret of the trouble in 99 out of 100 cases of deafness.

Bear this in mind.

If you are suffering from head noises; if you are occasionally hard of hearing; if you are partially deaf; if you are stone deaf, or if you are a deaf-mute, just grasp this subject with the force of your intelligence, and

DEAFNESS ABSOLUTELY CURED

M. L. BLACK, HUNTINGTON, UTAH.

Mr. Black says: "I wish to report that after taking your treatment for two months for Catarrhal deafness that my hearing is completely restored, although for OVER TWENTY YEARS I HAVE HARDLY BEEN ABLE TO HEAR A SOUND OUT OF ONE OF MY EARS AND LAST FALL MY OTHER EAR CLOSED UP."

"I cannot express to you my gratitude and how thankful I feel that I can now converse with my fellow man without him having to almost yell at me."

"I sent you my photo by mail today."

"Respectfully yours,"

M. L. BLACK, "Huntington, Utah."

relief and the full recovery of your hearing are in your own hands.

Anything that interferes with the free passage of air from the throat to the ear drum causes noises in the head, impairment of hearing and deafness.

It is from the throat that the citadel behind the hearing is taken.

The mucous membrane lining of the throat lines also the passages to the ears—the Eustachian tubes.

When disease sets up in the throat, it is likely to extend into the Eustachian tubes.

The same conditions that cause swelling or inflammation, or the secretion of thick and heavy mucous in the throat cause the same effects in the ear tubes.

When swelling occurs the membrane in the ear tubes comes together, and cannot cause through to the drum.

When mucous secretions in the air tubes it is not expelled. It lodges there and plugs up the canal.

In either event your hearing is checked.

Third—How faithfully the treatment is carried out.

For some cases the disease causing deafness has not passed far into the tube and is soon cured.

In other cases it is long standing more of the tubes are affected and it takes a longer time to cure.

The hearing is rarely restored immediately or a little at a time.

A patient may not see any progress for a long time.

When the cure comes it comes suddenly.
